Milt Parks, Colored, Arrested by Officers Who Think He Was Selling McFarland's Output

Milt Parks, a well known negro who conducts a grocery store in the East End of town, was arrested by officers Wednesday night and placed under $100 bond for trial Friday, on a charge of possessing whisky illegally. Policemen Turner, Golden and Deputy U. S. Marshal Dave Reagan, of Frankfort, found a pint jar full of moonshine whisky and five empty half gallon jars, that gave evidence of having recently been full of the 'shine stuff. Deputy Marshal Reagan said that the officers had reason to suspect that Parks was handling the output of the still which was destroyed at the McFarland place Wednesday. They will tell what they know at the examining trial of Parks Friday. So far the officers have been unable to apprehend McFarland. Deputy Reagan says that the man evidently walked right out of the yard after telling the officers to search his house, and got into a buggy which was waiting further down the road. The still secured there is at the office of U. S. Commissioner Warfield Bennett. The officers cut up the worm. They found a large quantity of mash and a tub full of pumace ready to make into apple brandy.

MAGISTRATES LOWER COUNTY TAX RATE

Pleasant Action is Taken by Fiscal Court at Meeting—To Build More Pike

Madison county taxpayers will undoubtedly appreciate the help given them by the members of the Fiscal Court at its regular meeting Tuesday when 5 cents on each $100 worth of property was cut from the county tax rate. The reduction in the county rate was from 95 cents the last year to 90 cents. The members of the court tried hard to make a 10 cent reduction. They sliced the county school levy from 40c to 35c but the County Board of Education, which has the power to get what it asks for under the law, wouldn't stand for it, so the school levy stays at 40c. The tax levy is divided up as follows: School fund 40c R. R. refunding bonds 3c Turnpike refunding bonds 2c General fund 20c Turnpike fund 25c And poll tax $1.50

In addition to fixing the annual tax levy, the Fiscal Court passed upon a number of road cases, and allowed several miles of new pike. Upon request of J. W. Teater and other citizens of that vicinity the court directed County Road Engineer Baxter to repair the Kirkville and Kentucky river road and to put a crew of men on it at once.

The court voted to place a bridge over Tate's creek on the road from the Tate's Creek pike to the Barnes Mill pike. Mr. Parks will pay a quarter of the cost of the bridge and the fill necessary.

The court allowed $200 for repair of the Big Hill road No. 201 upon request of John McLone.

Engineer Baxter was directed to investigate the conditions on the road from Panola to the Estill line. M. A. Logsdon, Mr. Richardson and others brought this to the attention of the court.

The court allowed $1,250 to build a mile of pike from E. T. Fish's scales to the Menalus pike.

W. H. James petitioned the court for this road. Upon request of J. N. Sallee and others the court voted $1,000 for the road from Morris Bogie's residence to the Kentucky river.

Slayer, After Three Escapes, Is On Trial

Whitesburg, Ky., May 4.—After three escapes, Redwine Holland is on trial here for a murder committed three years ago. The first flight was when Holland eluded officers and took to the hills afoot after killing a man at Jenkins. Arrested in Hamilton, O., he leaped from a rapidly moving train while in custody of officers returning him here.

Captured again in Breathitt county, his former home, he brought his examining trial to an abrupt end by dashing through the court house window here. He was rearrested several days ago.

PAY SUPERINTENDENTS MUCH HIGHER SALARIES

Sixty-one Already Chosen Out of 120 Counties in State—Top Salary Is $3,600

(By Associated Press)
Frankfort, Ky., May 5.—Sixty-one out of the 120 counties school superintendents to be elected by the county boards of education before January 1 next already have been chosen, it was announced today at the office of George Colvin, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. The salaries range from $1,200 to $3,600 a year and the terms from one to four years.

The average of salaries is considerably higher than ever before, according to Mr. Colvin. Under the old school law the county superintendent was elected by popular vote. The last legislature abolished the elective feature and made the position appointive by the county board and also gave the board power to fix the salary. The new superintendents take office on January 1, 1922, when the terms of the elective officers run out.

Probably the highest salaried superintendent thus far elected is Prof. George Baker, now of the University of Kentucky, who has been chosen superintendent of the Fayette county schools. He will receive $3,600 a year and the use of an automobile. Ponso Wright, of the Pike county schools, will receive $3,600 a year and M. C. Napier, of Perry county schools, $3,500.

The superintendents elected thus far, the length of their terms and their salaries follow:

The division quota of 300,000 garments for children up to 14 years of age and 38,000 layettes has been divided as follows:

REVOLUTIONARY WAR PRICES WERE UP, TOO

(By Associated Press)
Louisville, Ky., May 5.—Whisky formerly sold in Kentucky at $15 a half pint, and at the time national prohibition was an unheard-of regulation. Corn was cheaper, a gallon being worth $10. These prices were regulated by the court, composed of the most reputable citizens of Jefferson county soon after the revolutionary war.

Early records of the court contain the following quotations:

"The court doth set the following rates to be observed by ordinary keepers in the county, to-wit:

"Whisky $15 the half pint; a diet at $12; lodgings in a feather bed, $6; stableage or pasture, one night, $4."

The price of whisky compare favorably with that of the bootleg article in Kentucky today and the price of meals and lodgings with that of the highest priced hosteleries in the state today, except that travelers in those days usually paid in Continental money which was not worth a great deal.

Sheep Pests Controlled

By Use of Tobacco Dips
Owing to the fact that a large percentage of Kentucky sheep have lice and ticks in addition to scab which is occasionally found it will be necessary for farmers of the state to dip their animals immediately after shearing if they wish to keep them in the best possible condition, according to R. C. Miller, sheep extension specialist from the College of Agriculture. Tobacco or nicotine dips have been found to be the best ones for controlling these sheep pests and should be used according to directions on the container. One dipping will kill all the living lice and ticks but a second application will be necessary ten to fourteen days later to kill those which hatch from the eggs. After the old sheep are sheared lice and ticks will leave them and go to the lambs making it necessary to also dip them. The best practice to follow in the dipping operation is to use a dipping tank or vat. For a small flock a vat ten to 12 feet long, four feet deep and 16 to 18 inches wide is suitable. The ordinary hog dipping vat will answer the same purpose. One end of the tank should be perpendicular while the other should have a cleated incline so that the animals may climb out. A few sheep may be dipped in an ordinary barrel.

Individuals should be kept in the solution two minutes and the head ducked just before the animal emerges from the vat.

In these times YOU cannot afford to be forgotten

THERE never was a better time to advertise than right now. The buying power of any average family has increased since last year—everybody is earning more money.

Buying Liberty Bonds, War Savings Stamps, and paying war taxes is a stimulus and a benefit to honest business.

Advertising in America has been the call to action in recruiting and bond buying and Red Cross subscriptions.

Advertising stirs people into more rapid action.

You have seen the successes of advertising campaigns for government projects, you have seen the success of advertising in building up big businesses.

Are you using enough advertising to accomplish what you most desire to accomplish for YOUR business?

The best time to advertise is when prices are high. Are you waiting for a better time than NOW to advertise?

Eliminate advertising and you reduce buying to its barest bread and butter basis.

Advertising makes buying; without it you must SELL.

It's hard to think of a business or a commodity that isn't advertised nowadays.

The big idea is how to get the most returns for every advertising dollar spent.

The modern advertising expert is not a literary genius nor a spell-binding solicitor.

He is student.

Rations Recommended

For Sows and Litters

Four rations which have given good results in experiments are recommended by animal husbandry specialists at the College of Agriculture for the sow having a litter of pigs. The first is composed of one part of corn and three parts of skim milk, the second of nine parts of corn and one part of tankage and the third of equal parts of shipstuffs and corn. Corn, shipstuffs and ground oats in equal parts make up the fourth ration. A full feed for the sow having a litter of pigs is about four per cent of her live weight in feed each day.

A good ration for young pigs is composed of 4 pounds of corn, 60 pounds of shipstuffs and ten pounds of tankage. A second one is composed of 30 pounds of corn, 30 pounds of shipstuffs, 30 pounds of ground oats and 10 pounds of tankage.

SUFFERED SEVEN LONG YEARS

Finally Relieved by taking
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ravenswood, W. Va.—"For seven long years I suffered from a female trouble and inflammation so that I was not able to do my housework. I consulted several doctors but none seemed to give me relief. I read in a paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound so I decided to try it, and before the first bottle was gone I found great relief so I continued using it until I had taken eight bottles. Now I am very well and can do my own housework. I can gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine to suffering women."—Mrs. BERTHA LIERING, R. F. D., Ravenswood, W. Va.

The ordinary day of most housewives is a ceaseless treadmill of washing, cooking, cleaning, mending, sweeping, dusting and caring for little ones. How much harder the tasks when some derangement of the system causes headaches, backaches, bearing-down pains and nervousness. Every such woman should profit by Mrs. Liering's experience. Remember this, for over forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been restoring health.

Beach, Fla. She also visited St. Petersburg, Palm Beach, and many other places of interest, having a most delightful winter.

Weber Wagon Value

At half price would you purchase any automobile in 60-inch track?

At half price could you sell to a farmer any automobile in 60-inch track?

Why mislead a farmer into buying a farm wagon that won't track with the automobile?

What better path could a wagon use than the one made as shown above?

When you purchase a Weber Farm Wagon you get more than just a farm wagon. That fact alone is worth looking into.

Some wagons are sold more for the purpose of making a sale and as large a profit as possible than for giving service.

Some dealers are antagonistic to the Standard Track (the one track for every section of the United States) for farm wagons; the 56-inch auto track (not wide or narrow) because they have not got the agency for the Weber.

Some dealers will talk a farmer into buying a 60-inch old-track farm wagon, but when such a dealer goes into the country on business or pleasure does he use a 60-inch track farm wagon, leaving his automobile at home because the 56-inch track is wrong? NO, he uses 56-inch track to go anywhere and everywhere.

Ask the dealers selling automobiles if they have any trouble selling 56-inch track—if they could sell automobiles in 60-inch track even at half price. The answer will be NO.

What track should your new farm wagon be? The Standard 56-inch track, which is neither wide nor narrow.

Good painters like to do good work. They are as much interested as the property-owner in seeing that the paint they put on looks good and wears well. The fact means much, therefore, that many painters always use Hanna's Green Seal Paint on every house painting job. They find that HANNA'S GREEN SEAL PAINT produces the right results. It imparts a beautiful glossy finish; it wears well; it forms a durable film that covers the surface thoroughly without brush marks showing; and every gallon spreads out over a wide area.

In the long run Green Seal is the brand most economical to use on your property.

Arriving at one of the most critical stages of the war, when the Italians were forcing the Italian army back to the Po, the American Red Cross rushed emergency relief from Paris and revived the drooping spirits of the whole country. In addition to furnishing rations and comforts and medical attention to the fighting men, the American Red Cross instituted 42 soup kitchens, 36 children's hospitals, 10 children's dispensaries, 14 artificial limb factories, five homes for refugee children, 10 rest stations for refugees. This photograph shows a group of Italian refugee children being fed by the American Red Cross at one of the numerous relief stations.

vin. John Howard Payne, superintendent of the Richmond city Schools, J. W. Selph, county superintendent of Oldham county, and Supt. Colvin presented arguments in favor of the proposed Constitutional Amendments. Superintendent Payne is a splendid orator and impressive speaker. Supt. Selph delivered an excellent speech. Supt. Colvin spoke as follows:

The legislature of 1920 submitted a constitutional amendment to be voted on by the people at the November election, making the office of State Superintendent statutory rather than constitutional. The legislature was prompted by intelligent reasons to propose the change. In the last state campaign, both political parties had pledged themselves to take the office of county superintendent and state superintendent out of politics. In keeping with that pledge, the legislature enacted a law that does effectively remove the office of county superintendent from partisan politics and places it upon a professional basis. Any superintendent appointed under the law enacted in 1920 who actively participates in partisan politics ought to be, and probably will be, automatically removed from the position that he holds. So long as the county superintendent was elected, he had a right and was under obligation to take an active part in political campaigns. Now that he has come to represent both parties, he should keep himself in such position as to entitle him to receive the support and respect of both parties, and, for that reason, he should be barred from active participation in political campaigns. The legislature could not, however, legislate the office of State Superintendent out of politics, because the office and the method of filling it are fixed in and by the constitution. The only possible way to remove this office from politics is to amend the constitution. Under the present method of filling this office, two political campaigns are necessary, one for the nomination and another for the election. Most school men are malleable or unwilling for an uncertainty to meet the cost in time and money in making these two campaigns. Thus, the men who are best qualified to discharge the duties of this high office are prevented and prohibited from seeking it. This leaves the selection of State Superintendent to the party bosses—to those who make up party slates. The party boss will very naturally select a man who has political strength, or because of his geographical location, or because he has the support of the corrupt interests that prey upon our public schools. They do not seek a man of demonstrated ability; they make but little inquiry about his qualification or his fitness; they do not seek to know whether his heart beats in sympathy with the rights of Kentucky's childhood or whether he has the courage, the conscience and the capacity to give to the children of Kentucky a system of schools that guarantees to all an even chance. The current opinion is, that this is one of the minor offices. The candidate's name is placed near the end of a long ballot. The voters, in casting their votes, give but little thought to any of the minor offices. It is a safe assumption that not fifty per cent of the voters in the recent state campaign knew anything at all about the men running for the minor offices, in spite of the unusual attention given to these positions. The inevitable results of this system is, that too often the office will be filled by an incompetent, or by one who represents not the rights of the children, but the privilege of some selfish interest; and, it, by chance, a competent man has been chosen from time to time in the past, it was in spite of the system, and not because of it.

Under the present system the State Superintendent holds office for four years, whether he is competent or incompetent, and is ineligible to succeed himself. If he is incompetent, four years is too long for the children of Kentucky to suffer thru his incompetency. If he is competent, he should be retained in office so long as he measures up to the opportunities and the obligations of his position. The constant decline in efficiency of the public schools in Kentucky for the last thirty years has been largely due to the lack of leadership, lack of a permanent, progressive program of educational policy. The position itself has declined in the power that it exercises and in the respect in which it is held.

Any system of education worthy of Kentucky, worthy of Kentucky's six hundred and fifty thousand children, necessarily includes a unified authority outlining and enforcing policies that comprehend the entire state. Kentucky has not lacked strong schoolmen, but the positions that they held compelled them to think in terms of the particular phase of the work in which they were engaged. Each thought in terms of his particular institution or of his particular educational unit. It is not expected nor desired that these men shall come to think less of their particular work or of their particular institution, but that they shall come to appreciate the relation of this work or of this institution to a state educational system and that the best way to advance their work or to promote their institution is by giving loyal and intelligent co-operation in the promotion of the entire state system. We must have an intelligent and actual agreement upon a complete and comprehensive program that includes all the public schools, from the elementary school to the university.

Whether we are conscious of it or not, education has come to be the chief business of the state. For its support the state and the local units spend more money annually than for any other one thing of public concern. For its management and administration the highest professional and administrative ability is required. Under the present method of electing a superintendent we are not likely to find or to use this type of ability. Ordinary business prudence demands that we shall adopt some more intelligent and efficient method.

The two great political parties in our state do not materially differ in their attitude towards public education any more than they differ in their attitude towards the Ten Commandments. Both of them advocate the best possible school system for our children; both of them are equally honest in their advocacy of it. We should adopt a method of selecting a superintendent that will unite them in practice even as they are united in principle. We should place the State Superintendent in a position where he can appeal to the loyalty and to the patriotism of both parties. We should place this matter where a successful administration of the schools can not be credited to this party or that, and where a failure to administer the schools honestly and intelligently can not be charged against this party or that. There ought not to be divided allegiance between the public schools and our party. We ought to be placed in a position where we can approve and applaud the right administration of our schools without any thought of its effect one way or the other upon our party.

Every man and woman interested in the development of Kentucky should enthusiastically and intelligently support this amendment. The adoption of this amendment will leave with the legislature the decision as to whether the position is to be elective or appointive. It will leave with the legislature the composition of the State Board of Education. It will be privileged to define the powers and the duties and the qualifications and the tenure of office of the State Superintendent. It will place the office on a professional basis, and

"SPEED UP FUNDS," IS PLEA

In a recent report from Charles R. Crane, U. S. Minister to China, to the American Committee of the China Famine Fund, it is stated, that a Bubonic plague which a few months ago appeared in Northern Manchuria, has crept southward until it now threatens the main grain supply of China, which increases the burdens of this woe-beset nation.

As far back as 1917, China's troubles began to multiply when the Yellow River, always known as "China's Sorrow," overflowed its banks and swept the great provinces of Shantung and Shansi. The crops were destroyed and millions of persons made homeless. Floods are not unusual in north China, but then came the great drought and not until last summer did the rain clouds come between the dry brown earth and its tormentor—the sun.

Faced Peril in Silence.

But during these days, months and even years, when the food was gone, China did not raise her voice for help. The world did not know of the great tragedy in the Far East enacted on a parched stage with 45,000,000 famished people as the actors.

It seemed that at last their troubles had ended when the green things began to peep above the ground last summer. Then came that old enemy of mankind—locusts in droves, in clouds so thick they obscured the light of sun descended as from nowhere, and almost over night the earth was stripped of every living growing thing. The stage once more was a parched, brown, dry desert; but many of the actors had passed into the land of their ancestors.

In some recent information received, an instance is related describing the terrible destitution of the famine stricken land—a donkey had died in a distant province from lack of food. Its owner carted it into the interior of the famine area where eager bidders finally ran the price up to $2 to use its carcass for food.

Plague Threatens Granaries.

And now the plague threatens China's granaries. Unless the plague can be checked, Mr. Crane asserts, the granary relied on for the relief of millions of famine victims in North China will be cut off.

"The situation is rendered more serious," writes Mr. Crane, "by the fact that Manchuria is literally crowded with foreign exiles." There are no fewer than 600,000 Russians who fled before the Bolshevik executioners, 250,000 Koreans, and thousands of Chinese who formerly lived in Siberia, but who have been driven into Manchuria by the Red Armies.

"Concerted efforts are being made in cities and towns along the Chinese Eastern Railway to combat the plague, hospitals being established and the victims isolated. Efforts also are under way to fight the source of the disease—the rats that carry the germ. Thousands of persons already have died, and have been given hasty burial.

Spells Doom For Millions.

"If the grain supply of Manchuria is cut off, the famine victims in Shantung, Chihli, Honan, Shansi and Szechuan will be doomed, Manchuria representatives of the American Red Cross, the Chinese Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A. have informed the Peking authorities of the danger and urged that grain buying and shipments be hastened."

In the famine area there are approximately 40,000,000 persons subsisting on dry leaves, bark and roots, and only through the speed of funds to obtain this grain before it is cut off by the plague can these people be saved from death by starvation.

The raising of funds now, at the time when all efforts must be speedily put behind the work, is possible only through organizations in local communities. The Rev. Dr. E. Y. Mullins, Chairman in Kentucky for the China Famine Fund, issued a call to persons in each community in Kentucky to get together at once and form a local organization for the solicitation of funds for these starving people before it is too late to save them. Through the China Famine Fund money collected in America is distributed to every organization in the famine district doing relief work. The task is too big for one organization, the American Red Cross reports. The Red Cross already has appropriated $1,000,000 and has a large force of workers in the field. "It is a humanitarian call," says Dr. Mullins, "the need is great and the time element is an important factor. Wherever Committees have not been formed within the confines of this State, sympathetic friends are urged to form their own committee and ask the headquarters at Room 9, Board of Trade Building, Louisville, for further information. It will be gladly furnished.

AT THE MOVIES

The inimitable Will Rogers and the company which made "Honest Hutch," a Goldwyn picture, coming to the local theatres Thursday, resembled a circus or a Gypsy caravanerie when they started off for location from the studio grounds every morning, while filming the picture. Studio folk are accustomed to queer sights, but even they got a laugh out of the star's daily departure.

First came Rogers, attired in a "Honest Hutch" clothing; his wife, (Mary Alden), rigged out in a torn soiled apron, sagging skirt, skimpy waist, and a pair of prehistoric carpet slippers. The Hutchins children follow—Ellen Hutchins (Priscilla Bonner) with her "calico dress perilously held together by numerous safety pins and the younger Hutchins (Jeanette and Edward Trebaol) wearing a conglomeration of attire impossible to describe.

Best of all, however, was the Rogers menagerie, or farm stock section of the parade. On top of the truck load of animals crowded a lusty rooster, peering over the back of the truck were a venerable goat, six lean dogs, and a wobbly-legged calf, while grunting and squealing on the truck floor was a family of pigs.

"Honest Hutch" will be shown at the local theatres Thursday.

STREET PAVING SUIT TO BE HARD FIGHT

Demurrer Sustained To City's Original Petition Against Mary J. Walker's Heirs

Circuit Court was devoted most of Wednesday to hearing motions. Judge Shackelford permitted his juries to go home while the lawyers argued technical points of various civil cases that are before the court.

The jury which tried the case of Owen Walker, colored, charged with having liquor unlawfully, was unable to agree on a verdict and was discharged. This was a second offense trial for Walker.

Judge Shackelford sustained demurrer filed by the attorneys for Mary Jane Walker's heirs to the suit of the city for collection of street paving taxes amounting to $2,600 on the Lancaster avenue property. The city was given leave to amend its petition, which it was thought should be made more complete in several particulars, and file it as amended on the seventh day of the term. Attorneys representing the defendants are Judge O'Keefe and Wm. Wallace, of Frankfort, and A. R. Burnham, of this city. They are attacking the legality of the ordinances, etc., under which the city paved its streets. In a previous test suit, however, the Court of Appeals sustained the ordinances.

INDIAN'S LETTER GETS INTO RECORD

(By Associated Press)

New York, May 5.—James A. Stillman, New York banker, today gained a point in the divorce proceedings against his wife, formerly "Fifi" Potter, whom he charges with infidelity, and who in turn makes a similar charge against him. After a prolonged argument, Referee Gleason admitted the letter said to have been written to Mrs. Stillman by Fred Beauvais, the Indian guide named as co-respondent, and to have contained endearing terms. Dr. Hugh Russell, Stillman's family physician, testified today. It is understood he gave in substance a conversation he had with Mrs. Stillman. A Buffalo hotel clerk was also called in an effort to show that Mrs. Stillman once engaged two rooms at the hotel when Beauvais was said to have been in Buffalo.

CALVARY WITHDRAWS FROM CHURCH LEAGUE

Only one game will be played in the Church League here this week, and that will be staged this afternoon if rain doesn't interfere.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the League Thursday morning, the Calvary Baptist team withdrew from the league. This action was taken, it was stated, as a result of opposition on part of certain of the members of that church to have it represented by a nine. Capt. James Shaw at the same time withdrew his protest against the game which was played last week and won by the First Christian team.

President Deatherage immediately got in touch with M. F. Enright, who had been designated a manager of the Catholic church team, which desires admission to the league, and the place of the Calvary nine will be taken by it. Members of the Calvary team were given permission to play in this nine if they desire, as a number of them are understood to have expressed a strong desire to stay in the league.

Buy Your Coal Direct From Mines—Big Saving

The high cost of coal is a thing of the past! At least, there are no complaints on this account—since the removal of government restrictions—among those who have learned how to buy coal. The way to buy coal is to get it direct from the mines. This saves several million men's profits. It saves hauling expenses. Any one can now buy coal at mine prices, whether a carload buyer or one who uses only ten or fifteen tons a year. This has been made possible through a plan evolved by a large and old-established concern, THE BURNING COAL COMPANY, with main offices at 431 Commerce Building, Chicago.

This company has thousands of customers in various sections of the United States who receive all of their coal direct from the mines. These customers are pleased not only because of the many dollars they save every year, but also because of the quality of coal they are getting. Many write that they never before had coal that makes so little dust, that burns so well, leaving so few ashes. If you are a coal user—whether you use hard or soft coal, much or little—it will be greatly to your advantage to write the Burning Coal Co. at once for prices, stating kind and quantity of coal you use. $3-11

The following committee chairmen and officers are especially urged to attend: Mr. D. W. Kennedy, Mr. Stone Newman, Mr. R. E. Turkey, Dr. O. S. Hall, Mr. C. C. Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. F. suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated poisons, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind, he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of searching he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. All druggists have been appointed agents for Allen in this vicinity, with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase price on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.

TO ASK BOND ISSUE TO REBUILD SCHOOL

The citizens of Richmond will probably be given an opportunity to vote on a bond issue for the purpose of rebuilding Caldwell school. At the meeting of the City Council tonight it is understood that the members of the City Board of Education will appear before the City Fathers and submit the matter for a bond election. Architect Webber, who is preparing plans for the rebuilding of the burned structure, is expected to be here and outline his plans and give some important and definite information to the members of the board.

Just the exact amount that will be asked has not been fully decided upon as yet, it is understood, but the board will probably ask for the full amount permissible under the law, which is understood to be something like $80,000 or $90,000. This sum, if voted, used in connection with the large amount of salvage on the site of the old building, is expected to prove sufficient to put up a school building modern in every way.

ALLIES INVITE U. S. TO JOIN WITH THEM

Washington, May 5.—Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador, carried to the State Department today a formal invitation to the United States from the Allied powers to be represented on the Supreme Council's reparations commission and council of ambassadors. The invitation was cabled from London last night. Comment as to the course the administration will take is withheld pending study of the invitation. It is intimated unofficial quarters today, however, that acceptance by the Allied governments of the principle regarding mandates recently enunciated by Secretary Hughes might be made a condition of reserved participation by the United States in deliberations abroad in which it is asked to join.
